Condolence Message

I am extremely saddened to learn about the passing away of well-known development economist and former Vice Chancellor of Andhra University, Prof. R. Radhakrishna.

An academic luminary, he held several important positions and made immense contribution to areas relating to agriculture, food security, Indian economy, poverty and rural development. Only recently, he had met me during my visit to Visakhapatnam and presented five of his books containing his essays on various areas. His death is a huge loss to the academic world.

My heartfelt condolences to the bereaved family members.

Om Shanti!
